Not only did the cops remove barricades to let people in the capitol, they took selfies with those dangerous protestors. This was a setup, just like Covid. Remember, these are the people who killed the elderly to raise covid deaths and pin it on Trump. It's what they do. (mobile.twitter.com)

21 ▼ When you boil it down, what you're arguing for is that every institute of power and our entire ruling class are a bunch of traitorous, corrupt parasites.

That conclusion is just too much for some people to bear. Especially with our mental health already taking a beating thanks to these lockdowns.

2 They'd need a literal group meeting of the Fulton County election board with a whiteboard showing exactly how they'd commit the fraud then a second video showing the area you can't see where votes are adjudicated for Biden from Trump...and also video of the ballot factory where they print out Biden ballots then stuff them into ballot boxes and truck them across the state to get scanned....

in other words things that can't possibly exist because the criminals themselves would have to willingly film themselves committing and planning the fraud.

14 It doesn't work. Just FYI. Not trying to be a dick, but there is no proof a citizen could possibly come up with that would sway people who have already been informed that your evidence isn't enough.

The one thing I've had any luck with is asking why it's up to me, a random private citizen, to provide proof of fraud in an election, and not up to the government to prove that an election was legitimate. For instance, imagine demanding that a random Soviet citizen prove that Stalin wasn't legitimately elected, rather than demanding that the USSR prove fair and transparent elections.

(Worse: this is literally what happened in the USSR, down to the "small" errors here and there, seemingly unconnected, while they ignored it or downplayed it nationally, demanding "proof" from random people that there was in fact a problem. Here in the US, we took that to mean the obvious: they were cheating, and thus not a legitimate government. We've come a long way since then, I guess.)

This one seems to shake people, but if we're being honest they still don't care and usually just brush it off with a "teehee, but at least drumpf lost!" From other comments, it seems you have a hard time believing how many of your fellow citizens are Soviets now. I'm really, really sorry. It brings me to tears, but there it is. Your life will be better if you acknowledge and move forward with this info.

Ignore Trump. Ignore the Election. Challenge him on Cuties. Does he disavow Cuties on Netflix? If not, ask him why he supports child sexual exploitation.

If he disavows child porn (and there is a possibilty he will refuse), then just move to the next evil globalist thing. Mandatory hormone blockers for all children until they consent to their gender. Does he support that?

What about BLM burning down a Wendy's? Does he support that?

How about the intent to deface and destroy Mount Rushmore?

Eventually, issue by issue, it's possible to show someone they oppose the Democrats and agree with Trump, but if they have TDS, they won't admit it knowingly.

Hey, me too. For whatever reason my husband has decided to ignore it. I've even told him that according to his sources, Russia and covid are both real. He's a Trump supporter and doesn't believe the propaganda on those. But for some reason he can't see the fraud and won't look at the evidence. We're at a standoff and I figure it'll just be that way. I have a different life experience than him and take politics and rights way more seriously after spending time Zimbabwe, India and China. So I've decided our lives, which inform our perspective, has , burden on me but not on him to pay attention to this stuff.

I would point out the ga late night vote counting. If poll watchers were sent home and counting continued, then the vote was compromised. You don't need to "show" any fraud after that, even though we can see suitcases of ballots being pulled out. There was no transparency and so the election was a sham. Not to mention that the sos will not release their "numbers".

Yeah, I wish that mattered, but he honestly couldn't care less about that, or the affidavits, or Giuliani, or the audit of Dominion machines in MI. If Hot-air won't report it, he's sure there's no credible evidence. Even though I keep telling him the evidence itself has never been tested by the other side.

The best I've gotten was a checkmate when I asked if it was more probable that Trump paid thousands of people to write affidavits under penalty of perjury and put them on the stand and had countless lawyers risk their reputations over a hoax, or that the Democrats figured out how to hack an election system and switch votes to themselves.

Sorry. Civil wars are fought between families. If you can't see the evidence in the CCTV footage, or the hundreds of people who weren't allowed to observe, or the v truck driver with a trailer full of ballots, or the shredded ballots they just found. If there was no fuckery, a full audit would clean that up real quick. They know what an audit will expose. And they are being threatened by people in the shadows.

That doesn't even count our siblings and inlaws and parents.

It never ends. But you CAN work on your husband, subtly. :)

4 ▼ They don't need to take the guns now because they know nobody is willing to use them. People think there is going to be this moment where they try to storm your house and drag you to a concentration camp and you have to shoot back. That's not how they are doing it. The takeover of America was completed in a more sneaky way, without ever giving us a clear target to shoot or even rise up against. They won't march us to the gulag. They will turn our own homes into the gulag. That way your gun stays locked in the safe in the closet and never comes out. There will be no clear moment when the gun actually needs to come out. Especially with their suppressive control of the media. There will be no point when picking up arms and shooting back at them will be supported by the media.

▼ That would need to be done with plausible deniability though. Like a small militia of many 100 men chooses their first target, then storms the target's mansion in the middle of the night and executes the target. Maybe they even do it quietly, slitting their throats, and then they are able to sneak out without creating a stir. Then the militia could leave, undetected, and storm a second target in a different state the next night. And if those targets alternate between left and right, the media won't be able to blame Trump or our movement or American Patriots. It would just be a mystery. The world's corrupt elites would keep being executed in the middle of the night and no one would know who it was, or who was next. Corrupt celebrities, pedophile activists, FAKE NEWS journalists - the target could keep changing so that none of the corrupt elites would know if they were safe, in Minecraft.

Because of the enemy's control of the media, angry mobs aren't going to work for us. America has fallen to the CCP and we are now in a guerilla warfare situation.

▼ I'm glad I live on the edge of a big city as opposed to downtown or in the center of it. There are literally open fields in walking distance.

I never had a desire to live in a big city; but one takeaway from is election is the next time I move, it's going to be to a small town in a deep red county.

This was not a battle. It was a prayer walk. But it was powerful enough to scare the government. Which is liberty.

28 Wait, we scared them, how? They used the optics against us and stole the election anyway. Trump only came on and gave a speech about things we already knew, and did nothing.

He tweeted law and order while our cities burned and we kept hearing how to trust Barr, Sessions, and kept picking the worst fucking advisors that kept telling him to not be himself and worry about the optics.

We shoulda burned it to the ground.

The Romanoff's played optics to the commies and it got everyone murdered. Another dumb fucking march and no leadership.

14 This is why I've all but stopped coming here. Over a million of our staunchest supporters show up in force; a supporter was even openly murdered. Yet not a thing was done about it. It's all a freaking LARP at this point. That city should still be taken over. Every government building should be occupied. Total disgrace. We don't deserve to be mentioned in the same sentence as being "Americans" as those in the 1780's.

I think this march was a wave, a motion, signal for people not only for MAGA people, Trump supporters but people in general who are tired of leftis agenda that they are not alone, they can stand up and someone will be there, shoulder to shoulder.

And I think next 2 maybe 3 months are crucial because people are furious and have will to fight and want to do something! Someone need to pick up Trump torch and start 3rd party or all 80+ mil people who voted for Trump set in motion referendum to split from leftist.

Why keep playing Dems game when Dems changing rules during game and RINOS bed over, how about next 4 years people stop playing on Dems field with retarded rules and start their own league with fair rules?

UK exit EU or Czechoslovakia peaceful dissolution into the Czech Republic and Slovakia, you can save republic and build something new.

You don't need "Blue" states or cities. You guys know how to make food, farm and hunt. You can literally provide for yourself.

Tomorrow we could wake up to a chorus of "Goddamn CNN saying the sky is green. All we want is for it to be blue like in the old days."

Notice that last bit? That's narrative surrender. You already conceded the sky is now green and that blue is the old order. And as such the right "leaders" have conceded that this was violence, common folk walking into the King's chambers. They have already lost the war before it even started because this is what they ALWAYS do.

2 ▼ They set the narrative because they control the narrative. I agree that we should resist it, but resistance only goes so far. Their control of the narrative means they also get to set it. Their version of events automatically becomes the default. That means when two or more people are communicating, the assumption is that the others all submit to the default narrative. So you could have a boardroom of Trump supporters and if they don't bring politics to work, everyone in that boardroom would believe they were the only one who didn't trust the media.

I think we have to recognize their dominance here and then work around that. We cannot be naive and think, "Well, if we just articulate our message correctly!" or, "Well, if we just march peacefully enough and enough people show up!" Those are old ways of thinking that we all habitually fall into now, much like when we say, "When people see how bad they are, we will vote them out!" But there is no voting, there are no elections. In the same way, there is no way for us to control the narrative. It doesn't matter how much truth we show to them. That is us just naively believing they are honest actors. They aren't. Probably if we were forced to watch them commit their crimes against children this would snap into focus. We would immediately realize they are unreachable.

Same reason terrorists were able to hijack two planes and fly them into skyscrapers. Classic government failure.

I guarantee if Pence or Harris wasn't able to escape, Secret Service would have mowed you all down without a thought.

Probably same with the congressmen. I think all of them managed to escape before most insurrectionists got close to the chambers, and a tactical retreat of the real guards with guns made the most sense.

I'm sure the tunnels were protected with heavy steel doors and shit, you were never getting in there.

2 You just argued my point. We could have easily nuked Afghanistan and killed millions. That would be easy. It's harder to control (or occupy) a country. That's why endless wars are never won. If the job was to "kill all brown people there" we could have that knocked out in a few days.

I agree with your sentiment, but when I was watching them storming the Capitol live, I hardly saw any of them carrying firearms inside the White House, and if they were to insinuate violence, police would have started a massacre without no hesitation. I do not condone violence, but I'm a big believer in accelerationism, and as time goes by as Democrats have complete control of House, presidency and eventually Senate, the Right is no longer dealing with a then non-existent system, where violence will actually be used at that point to spread our point. In my early 20s a police officer pointed their gun at a group of my friends because they thought we were loitering.

My wife cheated on me with a police officer and he used his power to make my life a living hell.

I spent a night in jail after my mom accidentally swatted me when I'm watching her house.

how are any of these things upstanding behavior that's protecting and serving.

7 I'm not giving up because America is bigger than President Trump because as Thomas Paine said in "The American Crisis":

"These are the times that try men's souls. The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot will, in this crisis, shrink from the service of their country; but he that stands it now, deserves the love and thanks of man and woman.

Tyranny, like hell, is not easily conquered; yet we have this consolation with us, that the harder the conflict, the more glorious the triumph.

What we obtain too cheap, we esteem too lightly: it is dearness only that gives every thing its value. Heaven knows how to put a proper price upon its goods; and it would be strange indeed if so celestial an article as FREEDOM should not be highly rated."

Yesterday was the pre-planned setup.

President Trump knew about what was going to happen today, and called us all (in masses) to be there to witness the seige of the Capital, then (and get this) "DISMISS US" (an act necessary to invoke the Insurrection Act).

Repeat, this "dismissal video" (which is being scrubbed from YouTube, and other sites) is a requirement in order to enact the Insurrection Act.

For more on this, I encourage everyone to go over to our SISTER SITE - <https://greatawakening.win> -

SLOWLY, and CAREFULLY go through this particular post...

<https://greatawakening.win/p/11RhAqC755/logical-thinking-could-this-be-t/c/>

Another point:

If you watch POTUS' video, you'll notice it's very quiet in the background. If it was done at the rally (protest) there would have been a lot of noise in the background. This points toward it being recorded BEFORE the seige of the Capital.

There's recent reports that President Trump is at a nuclear command center. There he would be afforded complete security while he monitors (and takes action against) foreign and domestic threats.

And, remember the TWO Executive Orders which allow "us" to freeze and seize assets (financial, physical, etc.).

Enjoy the show, it's actually getting good!

▼ Tear gased, Shot with rubber bullets, flashbanged on shoulder and leg, Maced, knocked out an armored motherfucker that was trying to kill me. Don't be fooled. They did not want us in that building.

▼ Did you hear a Capitol Police officer died? Could it have been the guy you laid flat? If so, thank you for avenging the death of one of our Patriots

▼ I think I seen him after with clean new Trump gear on. A couple of them changed up and we're leading people to the bleachers where there was no access to the building. I could of died a few times . My affairs were in order.

4 Further proof we can not trust any news coming from the DC area. Curious to see what happens today? Will the people that want to purge DC show up? Either way discussing all of this where they can read it does no good. We need to get organized. The militant right scares the government far more than the militant left.

4 There were barricades that were removed by "someone" forcefully, the metal was literally torn and the bases were still bolted to the concrete.

4 I was there. I climbed the scaffolding at the capital. I pushed forward with my fellow Americans.

I was teargassed by Capital Police. I was yelled at by Capital Police.

But let me make this perfectly clear. From my perspective on the steps, scaffolding and on the landing.

I never saw a Capital Police officer strike, threaten or draw a weapon on any patriot.

I never saw any patriot strike, threaten or draw a weapon on any capital police officer.

When I got to the door to go in there was a Capital Police Officer by herself at the door. She was not blocking the doorway, not telling anyone to stay out and clearly did not feel threatened and was holding a crumpled up and dirty American flag.

I chose not to go in because I was armed. She saw me standing there looking in while others passed. She took two steps closer and I thought she was going to try to force the door closed, but handed me that flag. She said, "thank you for your service, (my hat & shirt let her know I served) this was being stepped on" and handed me the flag.

The Capital Police presence was always pathetically small and they knew if they did anything more than minor things like flash bangs and tear gas they would incite violence. They behaved as they should to defend the Capital but even when people were let inside if they did not run wild they were not bothered.

Only 2 people that I could see inside the capital got out of control and both the Capital Police and the Patriots, TOGETHER, worked to stop them. ✓ troublemakers inside and out 25 to 35 at best. That doesn't prove anything but sure looks like false flag stuff.

I have videos and photos to post too. I was but at a single point in the pan. But from my perspective I saw nothing but Capital Police doing there jobs to defend the Capital and Patriots defending 'our house' and they struck the right balance of protest without over reaction on both sides. From exclusively my place in the fight 01/06/2021 I personally witnessed a 40-ish man dressed in drab meticulously remove fence posts and plastic netting with "No Entry By Order Of Capitol Police" signs--a dozen or such--as if he was performing some civic duty. Today, 01/07/2021, I read confessions of parties hired to perform such actions/ to incite violence. (I wish I had thought to photograph him at close range.) I've also heard/read how multiple Antifa followers disguised as Trump advocates were identified by cyber intelligence.

Was taking to a lefty who heard on MSM that Babbit was shot for wearing a bomb. It's amazing to watch the propaganda work in real time. I knew that was bullshit when I heard it, but he ate it up

On the note of cops removing barricades, the video showing that was taken AFTER the initial breach. If you listen Marcus, the reporter who recorded it initially, says "they just breached the Capitol again". There were still people inside the building (at that time the senate wing and most areas were cleared out), there is no evidence cops removed barriers for the initial breach and many videos of making, pepper balls, and protesters physically breaking windows to enter the first time.
